Dear Sir,

I am sorry that the affair of the drawings fell through, but I must look forward to arranging it for another year. I am also sorry that the undertaking with Mr. Glaenzer has not been more successful. I fear there is no chance of the patron who was interested in them taking them now, as he has definitely decided they are too big for his purposes.

I must thank you for further batch of periodicals, which I have not yet had time to open, having returned recently from abroad.

Yours sincerely,

Curator of Paintings
Metropolitan Museum of New York.
