This is a detailed historical map of Vienna, Austria, titled 'Grundriss der kais. könig. Haupt- und Residenzstadt Wien samt ihren Vorstädten' (Plan of the Imperial, Royal, and Residence City of Vienna with its suburbs). The map is dated 1852 and was published by Tranquillo Mollo's Sohn. It features a grid system with letters (a-p) along the top and bottom edges and numbers (1-16) along the left and right edges. The map shows the city's layout, including the Danube River (Donau) and the Prater area. The city is divided into various districts, each color-coded: red for the central city, yellow for the inner suburbs, green for parks and gardens, and blue for water bodies. The map also shows the city's fortifications and the surrounding landscape. The title is written in a decorative, cursive font, and the publisher's name is at the bottom right. The map is a valuable historical document for understanding the city's development in the mid-19th century.
