

Johann Strauß-Theater, IV., Favoritenstraße 8. Capacity 1200 persons. Opened in 1908 with „1001 Nacht“ by Johann Strauß.

K. k. priv. Theater in der Josefstadt, VIII., Josefstädterstraße 26. Capacity 805 persons. Opened October 24, 1788 with „Koketterie und Liebe“.

Lustspieltheater in the Prater. Capacity 765 persons.

Intimes Theater, II., Praterstraße 34.

Urania-Theater, I., Aspernplatz. Capacity 600 persons in the theatre and 250 persons in the Experimenting-Room.

Concert Rooms.

Wiener Konzertverein, I., Lothringerstraße. Holds 2200 persons.

Großer Musikvereinssaal, I., Dumbastraße 3, Karlsplatz 6. Concert room of the Imp. Philharmonic Society. Capacity 2063 persons.

Kleiner Musikvereinssaal, I., Dumbastraße 3. Capacity 462 persons.

Beethovensaal, I., Strauchgasse 7.

Saal Ehrbar, IV., Mühlgasse 28. Capacity 500 persons.

Sights.

* Academy of Fine Arts, I., Schillerplatz 3, built by Hansen. Through the vestibule we enter the fine hall of the „Plastic Museum“. The library is in the mezzanin, the picture gallery on the first floor.

Academy, Imperial, Theresian (Theresianum), IV., Favoritenstraße 15. Educational establishment for young noblemen founded by Maria Theresia. Large library of about 38.000 volumes, extensive collections of models and natural historical specimens, chemical laboratory, botanical garden, riding-school etc. Since 1848 also non-aristocratic pupils are admitted.

Academy of Sciences, I., Universitätsplatz 2. Public sittings three times a month. The Academy is divided into a mathematic-natural-historical and a philosophic-historical class. On the ground floor there is a capatious hall, in the first floor the great Hall with frescoes by Guglielmi and sculptural works by Lenkbauer. Library about 8000 volumes. Open daily from 9—2.