Dear Mr. Fickers

I thank you heartily for your kind letter. Your sympathy in the cause that I have so much at heart does me more good than I can tell you.

This is a most unfortunate moment for me, and I am only able to send a few hasty lines in order that you may not be expecting me tomorrow. Not only am I still much too weak for any extra exertion, but my dear husband who came from Roumania to help nurse me and who ought to return there tomorrow on important business, is very unwell himself and requires all my care.

I am glad that you would like to have a talk with me, for I have long wished to make your acquaintance, though I fear that you will be disappointed in me as an active helper.
If all goes well, perhaps next week, we shall be able to arrange to meet.

In the mean time,
I trust that this thy. Gradisch affair will set wise hearts & minds aglow. I should like to hear that the Gasthaus Proprietor was prosecuted for allowing young lads to frequent his establishment.

Please let me know if anything comes of it all.
I wish from my heart that I could help you!

Yours most faithfully
Flora Carnegie.
