

J. N. 168. 751

ONE EVELYN PLACE
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

August 23rd, 1945

Elsa dear:

It was charming of you to make such Fächerlichkeit, which I don't like. Many, many thanks.

I am in full panic, as always, but I hope you will understand it, once you have seen the results. Since the Atomic Bomb is here I think that my Mass Psychology is more vital than ever before.

Virgil has disappeared behind the Mass Psychology, but as you are interested in the book's reception I send you as a sample the review in the N.Y. Times. The first edition is nearly sold out.

All love to you and Fritz,

Always yours,

Mumay

