Dear Mr Artaria,

I regret very much that my sudden appointment of departure for New York prevented my being able to finish my selection of English drawings. I left the matter in the hands of Mr Rothenstein in the hope that he would be able to complete the selection, but I suppose he has not done so. I fear that now it is too late and that it must be postponed for another year if you are good enough to consider the proposal again.

I hope you will not fail to let me know of any important old masters that might be of interest to the Museum.

Hoping that if you are in London in the summer I may have the pleasure of renewing a most pleasant acquaintance,

Believe me,

Yours very truly,

Roger E. Fry
