

London 22. 12. 1791

My dear Madam

I have the honor to receive your letter of the 19th inst. in relation to the above mentioned business. I am sorry to hear that you are not satisfied with the manner in which the same has been conducted. I have already written to the several persons concerned in the matter, and have endeavored to explain to them the reasons which have induced me to proceed in the manner I have done. I am confident that you will find them all very sensible and reasonable. I have also written to the several persons who have been employed in the execution of the business, and have endeavored to explain to them the reasons which have induced me to proceed in the manner I have done. I am confident that you will find them all very sensible and reasonable.

Yours truly

J. B. [Signature]

